

Bradford Grants

A clearer path from a good idea to a careful, human-approved grant project.

Find it

Search trusted sources and check the real rules.

Build it

Gather proof, make a plan, and write clearly.

Finish it

Review together, approve as a human, and track what happens.

Bradford Grants does not guarantee eligibility, selection, awards, or funding. AI-assisted output requires human review and approval.

MISSION AND PURPOSE

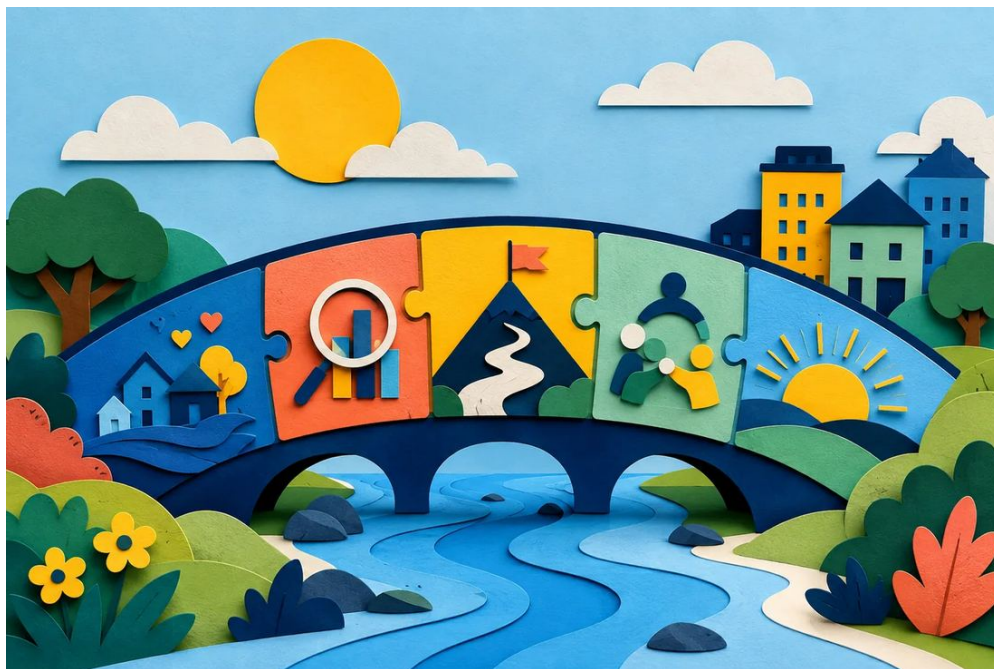

About Bradford Grants

Grant development crosses research, program design, evidence, budgets, deadlines, writing, approvals, and reporting. Bradford Grants is being designed to bring those moving parts into one accountable workspace without removing the judgment of the people closest to the mission.

Clearer Turn a long, confusing process into small steps with visible next actions.	Stronger Keep facts, requirements, and important claims connected to reviewable sources.	Responsible Keep judgment, final language, and consequential actions under human control.

LEADERSHIP

Meet Daphne Bradford

Bradford Grants is being shaped around access, evidence, accountability, privacy, and practical service.

Daphne Bradford is an educator, nonprofit founder, and civic leader whose work has focused on expanding access to technology and STEM learning. She founded Mother of Many, which developed technology-training opportunities for K–12 students and supported educators integrating technology into learning. In 2013, the Obama White House selected Bradford as a Connected Educator Champion of Change. Microsoft named her a U.S. Innovative Education Forum finalist in 2011 and 2012. Her public-service engagement has included candidacies for federal, county, and California state office, most recently California State Senate District 28 in 2026.

Selected public highlights

Leadership	Founder of Mother of Many	Expanded access to technology and STEM learning for K–12 students and educators.

THE SIMPLE MODEL

How it works: 1-2-3

A fourth grader can remember the path, while a professional team can open every detailed step.

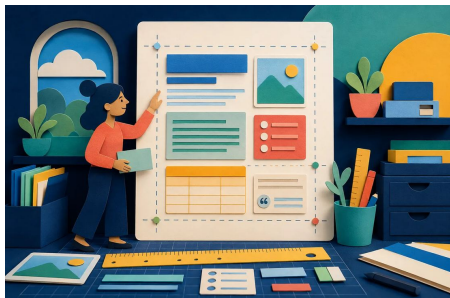

Find it Find a possible grant, read the real rules, and see if it fits your team.	Build it Gather facts, make a plan, and write a clear story with proof.	Finish it Check every part, get human approval, and track what happens next.
1 — Find it 01 Organization readiness 02 Goals and funding priorities 03 Opportunity discovery 04 Eligibility and fit review 05 Funder and evidence research	2 — Build it 06 Requirements mapping 07 Proposal planning 08 Structured drafting 09 Budget coordination 10 Internal review	3 — Finish it 11 Submission readiness 12 Human-authorized submission 13 Outcome capture 14 Post-award tracking 15 Reporting and closeout

The final external action remains under explicit control of an authorized person. Opportunity rules and deadlines must be confirmed on the official funder source.

TRANSPARENT STATUS

What is live and what is planned

The public story is usable today. Connected product capabilities are introduced honestly and remain gated until their controls are ready.

Capability	Public status	Meaning
Public website	Live now	Public information, privacy, contact, and release updates.
Protected review	Synthetic preview	Fictional review experience shared separately with approved reviewers.
Research and discovery	Planned	Supported sources and monitored coverage require production approval.
Document Studio	Synthetic preview	Structured drafting is previewed without live records or submission.
Public AI guide	Planned	Remains hidden until security, privacy, provider, and operating gates pass.
Email and integrations	Not connected	No mailbox reading or live delivery in this release.

No public page can submit a grant, activate an advertisement, charge an order, upload a real grant record, or make an award decision.

HUMAN ACCOUNTABILITY

Trust and privacy

Technology supports the work. People remain responsible for facts, judgment, language, and every consequential external action.

Show the source

Important conclusions should retain evidence and last-checked context.

Connect carefully

Live data and providers activate only after required safeguards and approvals.

Let people decide

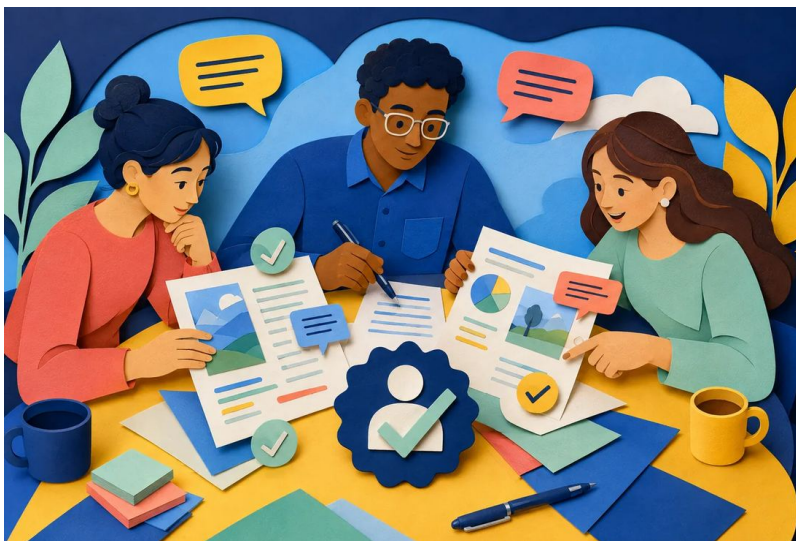

Authorized people control final language, decisions, and submissions.

Current public-site safeguards

- Data-minimizing public forms with consent and non-enumerating responses.
- Protected storage, request limits, anti-forgery controls, and retention rules.
- No advertising trackers or analytics cookies.
- The public assistant fails closed and remains hidden when readiness is not exact.
- Contact and release-update email delivery remains disabled until approved mail controls are complete.

IMPORTANT LIMITATION

Bradford Grants does not guarantee eligibility, selection, awards, or funding. Opportunity details can change. Users must confirm requirements and deadlines with the official funder. AI-assisted output requires human review and approval.

PUBLIC RESOURCES

Brand, visuals, and sources
